CONVICT FOOLS FOLSON PLOT

MEDIATORS CHOSEN BY HUERTA

Mexican Jurist and Secretary of Justice to Enter Conferences

Carranza's Refusal to Accept Armistice May Not Be Final

MEXICO CITY, May 4.—Pedro Lascurain, a wealthy real estate man, who was minister of foreign affairs in the cabinet of the late President Madero, disappeared today.

No successor has yet been appointed to take the portfolio of foreign affairs, resigned by Jose Lopez Portillo y Rojas last Saturday.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—General Huerta's acceptance of the request of the Latin-American envoys that he send delegates to confer with them in efforts to mediate the difficulties between Mexico and the United States was announced today at the state department, together with the names of two Mexicans who will represent the Huerta government in the negotiations.

The mediators, at a conference with Secretary of State Bryan, communicated to the department that General Huerta had selected to represent his interests Emilio Rabasa, a Mexican jurist, and Agustine Garra Galdino, under secretary of justice in Mexico.

It further was announced that a third delegate to represent Huerta would be named tomorrow.

Following the conference Secretary Bryan made public the information from Mexico City which Huerta had communicated first to the mediators through Ambassador Riano of Spain.

The further announcement was made that no delegate to represent the United States had been selected. Secretary Bryan would not discuss the details of the conference further.

CLOSE FRIEND OF HUERTA. Rabasa is a close friend of General Huerta and it is believed here he was his personal choice. He had been here at either Juarez or Casassus or Manuel de Zamacoena would be the other representative.

While the mediation conferences were in progress Secretary Garrison discussed the situation at Vera Cruz with department heads. He said no late reports had been received from General Funston and no more troops had been ordered to reinforce the Americans now at the base of this government's Mexican operations.

It was reported, however, plans (Continued on Page 5, Cols. 1-2)

11 DIE IN STORMS
Cyclone in Texas Isolates Town; Tornado Drenches Great Valley States
Eleven deaths, many more persons injured, and wide areas laid waste are the results of wind and rain storms in the south and middle west last night and today.

TEXARKANA, Ark., May 4.—It is reported that a cyclone passed through Maud, Texas, about 11 o'clock today, killing four and injuring 12 persons. All wires from this city to that section are down and it is impossible to obtain any details of the storm.

CLASH OVER U. OF C. DISMISSAL

Eleanor Wilson's Pet Collie Comes to Grief Beneath Auto

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Neben, a pet collie belonging to Miss Eleanor Wilson, came to grief at the White House today. While running near an automobile the dog slipped and one of his hind legs was crushed by the machine. A veterinarian was summoned and set the broken leg.

HAZEL LUX ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

"Woman Who Tried to Be Good" Attracts Few to Courtroom

There were just two other members of her sex present in the courtroom when Hazel Lux, the "woman who tried to be good," went on trial for her life in Superior Judge Ogden's court today. She is charged with the murder of William Garland, whom she shot and killed in Emeryville on December 22, 1908.

Of the curious or the interested as to the fate of the defendant there were apparently none save her counsel and possibly the lone woman spectator. She sat beside her attorneys, Gehring and Wyman, during the examination of prospective jurors.

Of the curious or the interested as to the fate of the defendant there were apparently none save her counsel and possibly the lone woman spectator. She sat beside her attorneys, Gehring and Wyman, during the examination of prospective jurors.

LIVED AS WIFE. For nearly seven years, she said, she had lived with Garland as his wife, contributing to his support from her earnings in the Oakland segregated district. He had repeatedly told her that he would make her his wife, according to the confession. Last January when the habits of the defendant were ordered to move she gave up the life and went to live in Emeryville. There she worked as a housemaid in the hotel to provide board and room for herself and Garland. The night of the murder she had appealed to the man to keep his promise and marry her.

"I was done with the old life and wanted to be what you call a wife," she told the district attorney. "I asked him to go with me to San Rafael or anywhere to be married. He constantly had put me off and finally refused to make good his promise. Then I killed him and I am glad that I made a good job of it."

The defense to be set up by counsel for defendant will be that of temporary insanity.

Gunmen Mortally Wound Policeman
NEW YORK, May 4.—Policeman William J. Kelly was mortally wounded today by a shot fired by a man who held up a man in Brooklyn early today after they had shot and killed a Greek restaurant keeper.

Kelly is the third policeman shot by gunmen in Brooklyn streets in the last two weeks.

MRS. MAGEE GUEST AT HACIENDA

Mrs. Hearst Reported to Be Against President Wheeler's Action

Ousting of Woman Instructor Cause of Alleged Disagreement

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, May 4.—The entertainment by Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst at her Pleasanton home, Hacienda del Pozo Geronimo, of Mrs. W. E. Magee most of last week and over the week-end, has led to the belief among the former students of Mrs. Magee in the physical culture department that the university regent and benefactor does not agree with President Wheeler in the justice of the dismissal of Mrs. Magee from her position. Added to this was a rumor on the campus today to the effect that Mrs. Hearst and President Wheeler had decided to disagree on a change in the physical culture department.

President Wheeler refused this morning to comment upon the report. Mrs. Magee was dropped from the department, according to President Wheeler's former statement, at her own request. Both Professor and Mrs. Magee stated that the change came without warning to them.

Miss Maude Cleveland was named as Mrs. Magee's successor.

MAKES KNOWN ATTITUDE. While discussion of the matter was still rife, Mrs. Hearst appeared in the bay cities early last week and the report has it that at this time her attitude regarding Mrs. Magee's dismissal was made evident. More concrete proof was given when upon her return to the Hacienda del Pozo Geronimo she took Mrs. Magee with her as her house guest.

Professor Magee denied emphatically this morning that to his knowledge there has been any open rupture between Mrs. Hearst and the president of the university. He said:

"I am certain that the story is entirely without foundation in fact. How it originated I do not know. Mrs. Magee was Mrs. Hearst's guest at the Hacienda, but there was nothing unusual about it."

ENDS LIFE AT CLUB

Henry Stern, Realty Broker, Takes Poison in Dressing Room at Olympic

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Henry Stern, a realty broker, with offices at 318 Bush street, prominent in the business world, committed suicide this morning at the Olympic Club. The reason for his act remains a mystery at this time. As was his last, Stern visited the club about 11 o'clock. He went right to his dressing-room and prepared to take a plunge. He had removed his hat and coat and is supposed to have swallowed a quantity of cyanide of potassium. A fellow member, who uses the same room, opened the door about fifteen minutes later and found Stern lifeless on a bench. It was at first believed that he had succumbed to heart failure, but an investigation by Deputy Coroner Brown disclosed the fact that he had taken poison. He was 31 years old and is survived by a wife and daughter.

Stern left home this morning in good spirits. His wife saw him to the door and said she had no suspicion that all was not right. She cannot throw any light on the case and does not know why the broker killed himself. He was at his office yesterday and one of his associates consulted him on a new business venture.

Several rumors have been circulated that Stern had suffered some business reverse. At his office it was said that he might have lost some money due to general hard times, but that he had always had a good business and was not in any way financially embarrassed. The Sterns live at 1700 Pacific avenue, and Miss Stern, daughter of the deceased, was one of the star performers at the Press Club's "Eight-Year-After" show.

PRETTIEST GIRL PREFERS BOOKS RICHES AND FAME DO NOT LURE

IS THIS OAKLAND'S OWN TYPE OF FEMININE BEAUTY? MISS MARY BADER, WHO HAS BEEN ACCLAIMED BY BEAUTY EXPERTS

EXPOSES MYSTERY

Hidden Vanity Box Inscription Bared to Jury in Peering Case

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The silver vanity box of pretty 17-year-old Ida Peering, containing hidden mysteries of which the girl herself was ignorant, was the chief exhibit in the trial of Maury I. Diggs today, and the little comforts hidden beneath its two covers were exposed to the searching gaze of 12 pairs of eyes in the jury box while a half hundred spectators craned their necks in an effort to see.

Miss Peering seemed greatly surprised when a secret was dragged from her innocent looking bit of jewelry, and when Attorney Nat Cochran discovered a name and a telephone number hidden beneath a clasp in an inner recess of the mystic case, her excited wonderment bore the earmarks of genuineness.

"Have you a vanity box?" inquired counsel as soon as the girl, attired from head to foot in blue, took the stand for cross examination. "Why, yes," was her reply. "How long have you had it?" "Several months, I think."

"Does it bear the name of W. S. Turner inscribed on the inside of it?" "No, sir."

"Are you sure?" "Positive, yes; I never saw it."

"HIDDEN BENEATH CLASP. Cochran had a hard time finding it himself, because it was hidden beneath the clasp."

FIFTY DIE IN FIRE

Chilean Capitol Is Scene of Disaster; Flames in Alaskan Town
VALPARAISO, Chile, May 4.—More than 50 lives were lost early today in a fire in the commercial section of this city. Several buildings were destroyed. When the fire broke out, the efforts of the fire fighters were virtually useless.

Oakland School Maid's Beauty Heralded by Artists

No, she isn't going to play in the "movies." She doesn't want to go on the stage. She doesn't even expect to marry a millionaire—at least, not just now.

Miss Mary Bader, although pronounced the prettiest schoolgirl in Oakland, isn't going to use her new title. Instead, she is going to finish school, and after that it will be time enough, she says, to think about other things.

Miss Bader, who has been adjudged by artists as Oakland's prettiest schoolgirl, was only discovered after some search.

A pretty face looking from amid leaves and flowers, has set the artists of the bay cities a-talking, and as a result the verdict was reached that the owner of the face is the prettiest school girl. The owner of the face in question was one of the attendants on the queen at the Children's festival at Idora park.

The picture was taken during the fete, and several copies, being framed, were seen by artists in Oakland and San Francisco galleries. As a result inquiries were made as to the model.

Miss Bader took a prominent part in the recent fete.

She is well known in the younger social set.

Denman Named for Bank Reserve Board

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The Federal Reserve board, it was understood today, will be William Denman, lawyer, economist and philanthropist, of San Francisco. Daniel Kellthorpe of Seattle was considered, but President Wilson is said finally to have selected Denman.

Made Chief Clerk of State Civil Service

SACRAMENTO, May 4.—Edward Keasbey, formerly assistant to the traffic chief of the telephone company at Sacramento, has been appointed chief clerk to the state civil service commission in place of George Keystone, resigned. Keasbey passed third in the chief clerk's examination. The salary is $125 a month.

RUPE PAROLE IS UP

Board to Consider Application for Freedom at Saturday Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The petition of Abe Rupe, former political leader of San Francisco, for a parole from San Quentin penitentiary, where he is serving a 14-year sentence, is on the calendar for hearing at the next meeting of the state board of prison directors at Folsom, Saturday, May 9, according to information given out today.

Rupe tried two years ago to have such a petition considered, but the board clung to a rule that until a man had served at least half of his term parole was out of the question.

Recently the Supreme Court ruled that under an act of the last legislature any first-term not serving a life sentence was entitled to a hearing on a petition for parole after he had served one year of his time.

The board, while its members have submitted their individual ideas for a reform in the parole rules, has not made any formal change in its custom.

Ships Race to Save Vessel From Flames

HALIFAX, N. B., May 4.—A wireless message today from the steamer Sedlitz stated that an unidentified steamer was on fire 100 miles to the south of Sable Island. The vessel was enveloped in smoke. The Sedlitz sent out wireless messages to the nearest ships, asking them to come to the rescue. All these steamers proceeded to the rescue. There was no sign of life on the steamer. It was added, and no ship's boats could be seen in the vicinity.

Nation's Business Is Transacted at Fresco

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The nation's business, Mexican immigration and all, was moved into the open air today when President Wilson left the stuffy executive offices for the cool shade of a tent spread in the White House grounds.

Representative Oscar Underwood, majority leader of the house, was the first visitor to be shown to the open-air office.

WARDEN IS TOLD OF PLAN

Prisoners' Scheme to Strip Officials and Wear Their Clothes

Tools of Torture Are Made in Preparation for Attempt

SACRAMENTO, May 4.—An ingenious plot on the part of four convicts in Folsom prison to overpower Warden J. J. Smith in the basement of the new residence that is being built for the warden at the prison and then to escape, was uncovered Saturday night through the friendship of another convict, who tipped off the plot.

The two convicts at the head of the proposed break were George Greenwell, doing five years for burglary from San Joaquin county, and Norman Bateman, doing ten years for robbery from Los Angeles.

With the assistance of convicts E. F. Johnson and S. B. Croft, a notorious forger, they were to "strong arm" Warden Smith and Eugene Rush, superintendent of construction of the warden's residence, yesterday morning, change clothes with them and ride out of the prison in a carriage.

TOOLS MADE READY.

Ample preparation had been made by the convicts, with the making of knives, gags and a surveying outfit to be used as a blind in getting outside the gates. The entire outfit was found in the basement by Warden Smith yesterday. Some of it had been buried in the ground floor and the knives had been cached in crevices in the stone walls.

Every Sunday morning four prisoners are allowed to go to the warden's residence to clean up and prepare for the Monday work, and every Sunday morning Warden Smith, with Superintendent Rush, makes an inspection of the work.

The plot of the convicts was to lead Smith and Rush into the basement of the building and overpower them. The warden was to be stripped of his clothes and the prisoners were to put them on. Greenwell was to put on Rush's clothes. This arrangement was made in order to get the best fits.

INSTRUMENT OF TORTURE.

In order to have Warden Smith completely at their mercy the convicts had made an armed belt that they were to put on him. This belt was so constructed that a slight pull of a string attached to it would send a sharp knife into the warden's body. This method was to be taken in forcing Smith to do their bidding.

The convicts then were to force the warden to order a carriage that would convey them out of the prison on a supposed surveying trip. The surveying outfit, tripod and improvised instruments, had already been made. This work alone, it is estimated, must have taken several months.

The warden, when he learned of the plot, locked the men up.

OLNEY HEAD OF BANK BOARD

Cleveland's Secretary of State Is Governor of Federal Reserve

Member of Kuhn, Loeb Company to Be Member of Board

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The Federal Reserve Board as selected by President Wilson is as follows:

Richard Olney, Boston, Mass., governor of the board; Paul Warburg, New York City; Harry A. Wheeler, Chicago; W. F. G. Harding, Birmingham, Ala.; Wm. Denman, San Francisco.

Secretary McAdoo and John Skelton Williams, controller of the currency, are ex-officio members.

Acceptances are still being awaited by Messrs. Olney and Harding.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—President Wilson has selected Richard Olney, former secretary of state in the Cleveland administration, to be governor of the federal reserve board and Paul Warburg of New York to be a member of the board.

Although the President has offered the governorship to Olney, word of his acceptance was being awaited today, but friends here were inclined to believe he would not decline. Olney was offered the ambassadorship to Great Britain by President Wilson early last year, but expressed an unwillingness to leave the country on account of his business interests.

ACTIVE AT 70.

Although Olney is 76 years old he is active and has had a long experience in the business world and finance which the President and his advisers believe would especially be adapted for the head of the reserve board.

Warburg, who was connected with Kuhn, Loeb & Co., was selected as a member of the board. Formal announcement of his selection, as well as the other three members of the board, is expected to be made within the next two or three days.

It is understood that a Southern banker is to be one of the three, but no intimation has come as yet as to his identity.

SEVEN ON BOARD.

The complete board will consist of seven members at salaries of $12,000 a year. The secretary of the treasury and the controller of the currency are ex-officio members and the five other members are to be appointed by the President.

With Olney representing New England and Warburg, New York, it was expected that the other members to be selected would represent the south, the middle west and the far west. The appointments will serve ten years.

Senator Owen, who piloted the currency bill through the Senate, conferred with the President today about the selections for the board. He said he did not discuss individuals, but rather talked over the general banking viewpoint, he believed, should be presented by the men to be selected.

Owen said the remaining appointments would be made from a list of 147 men now before the President.

Two other names which are reported are to appear on the federal reserve board are Harry A. Wheeler, vice-president of the Union Trust Company of Chicago and president of the National Association of Commerce, and W. F. G. Harding of Birmingham, Ala.

OLNEY ONLY SMILES.

BOSTON, May 4.—Richard Olney smiled when informed today that President Wilson had selected him for governor of the federal reserve board, but declined to comment on the announcement or indicate whether he would accept.

Gov. Hiram Johnson

Editor Serves Sentence Rather Than Name Writer

HALIFAX, N. S., May 4.—W. R. McCurdy, news editor of the Halifax Herald and Evening Mail, ended today a sentence of 48 hours imprisonment in jail, which had been imposed upon him by the provincial legislature. The sentence was the first of its kind in a quarter century.

Editor McCurdy refused to reveal the author of a published letter which was construed by government members of the legislature as an insult to that body on the ground that it would be a violation of journalistic ethics. The verdict against him was reached on a straight party vote.

Army of Witnesses For Gunman Becker

NEW YORK, May 4.—For the second trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, on a charge of man Rosenthal, which begins Wednesday, District Attorney Whitman will call 70 witnesses. Many new faces, it is said, will be seen in the witness chair.

As at the first trial the state's case will be made around the story of Jack Rose, which will be corroborated by "Bridge" Webber and Harry Vailon.

Moors Defeated in Battle With French

FEZ, Morocco, May 4.—A desperate battle between the French troops and the followers of the native pretender to the Moroccan throne resulted yesterday in the defeat of the Moors, who suffered heavy losses. The French casualties totaled nine killed and 25 wounded.

The French troops attacked the natives in a mountain stronghold which they carried at the point of the bayonet in spite of a tenacious resistance by the Moors. The Moorish camp was destroyed.

Kermit Roosevelt to Reach Lisbon May 20

MADRID, May 4.—Miss Belle Willard, daughter of the American Ambassador to Spain, Joseph Willard, has received a telegram from Kermit Roosevelt, to whom she is engaged, saying he will arrive at Lisbon, May 20.

The Roosevelt party is expected to reach Barcelona from the Atlantic May 21. Colonel Roosevelt will go first to New York where he will remain ten days or a fortnight, before coming to Madrid where he will meet his son about June 8.

Oakland Shriners St. Louis Guests

ST. LOUIS, May 4.—About 400 California members of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine were entertained by St. Louis members of the order here today and many of the visitors took part in a parade through the downtown streets. The visitors were from San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego and Oakland and are on the way to Atlanta, Ga., to attend the national meeting of the order.

CATHOLIC FORESTERS WILL HOLD SOCIAL

About 700 tickets have been sold for the social and dance to be given by the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, Wednesday evening in Sacred Heart Hall. There are sixty members in the Sacred Heart branch of that organization, which is one of the strongest Catholic societies in the United States. It has a membership enrollment of 75,000 women and there are 104 chapters.

Mrs. James Kelleher, organizer of the Alameda County courts, is chairman of the dance committee. She is being aided by Mrs. M. Felling, chief ranger, and Mrs. M. Doolan, vice chief ranger.

Throughout this county the courts are being established by Mrs. Kelleher, who is an enthusiastic worker.

BEST DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

If you have ever suffered from Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, you know that it is a success. Sam F. Glin, Whittier, Ala., writes: "I had measles and caught cold and I had a very bad time with my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time and had it not been for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I would have been dead a long time ago. I had a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy, I am now well and strong. For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores."

VICTORY IS SCORED BY GOVERNOR

Colorado Executive's Supporters Elect Speaker

Ammons to Address Legislature; Laborites Are Confident

DENVER, Colo., May 4.—The Colorado legislature convened in extra session today, in response to a call by Governor Ammons to consider matters connected with Colorado's coal strike.

The selection of J. H. Slattery as the Democratic caucus candidate for speaker by a vote of 20 to 17, opening ing, was regarded as a victory for the supporters of Governor Ammons. This assured Slattery's election as speaker.

The combined Republican and Progressive complimentary vote was expected to go to Horace Mann of Garfield county, who was elected on a fusion ticket.

An eleven-hour shift gave to John Slattery the complimentary vote of Republicans and Progressives for speaker. Horace Mann being chosen floor leader.

Mann moved to make Slattery's election unanimous, declaring the present time was serious and that it was no time for politics, and the Republicans and Progressives would go down the line in support of the state and institutions.

FAVOR PAYMENT.

The administration supporters generally appeared to favor the payment of the militia, but were met with threats by opponents that if such legislation was attempted an effort would be made to secure the governor's impeachment.

During the forenoon a suggestion was heard that the Senate and House appoint a joint committee to investigate the strike and report to the legislature which convenes next January and adjourns sine die leaving the present situation to be handled by the federal authorities. Such a course would mean no provision for meeting the military indebtedness, roughly estimated at $1,000,000, and no attempt to carry out the legislative program contained in the governor's call.

LABORITES CONFIDENT.

Labor leaders continued to express confidence that they would be able to carry through their avowed program for the governor's impeachment. It was uncertain when Governor Ammons would address the joint session.

The governor, somewhat recovered from his nervous and physical collapse of last night while preparing a message to the legislature, was at his office during the morning. Unable to complete a formal message he planned to go before the joint session and address them on the subject of the strike.

His program consists of compromise payment of the militia, compulsory arbitration law establishing a state constabulary, laws giving the governor authority to close saloons in times of internal disorder to regulate the sale and purchase of firearms and an appropriation to meet the expense of the constabulary.

A modification of the suggestion for a legislature was that the report be made to an adjourned session of the present legislature to convene within 30 to 60 days. This appeared to meet with greater favor and some members ventured a prediction that a program of this character would be agreed upon.

ASKS PROSECUTION.

TRINIDAD, Colo., May 4.—District Attorney J. J. Hendrick said today that he had been asked by representatives of the Southern Colorado mine owners to prosecute the federal government, commanding the federal forces in Colorado, and request him to arrest every man in the San Rafael tent colony of the strikers on charges of murder, growing out of the Forbes battle. Hendrick declared he had refused to accede to the request of the operators.

"The office will remain absolutely neutral in the matter of prosecution," he declared. "I did not ask Major Holbrook to use the military forces of the government in making arrests, because I don't believe in militarism. If anyone has a complaint to make and I will take care of it, making the attorney. However, there's going to be a square deal in this affair. If the operators wish the strikers prosecuted on murder charges at the battle of Forbes I shall insist upon being furnished with a list of the millionaires and mine owners who took part in the battle of Ludlow with a view to prosecuting them on charges of murder or arson."

The district attorney explained that he had not initiated any prosecution and did not intend to do so, but that he was ready to prosecute either strikers or mine guards or both if competent backed by proof, were filed in his office.

NO ARMED GUARDS. In accordance with plans announced last night arrangements have been made for the paymasters of the strikers and of the various companies at

A SPRING TONIC

Old Reliable Hood's Sarsaparilla is Pleasant and Effective.

Your close confinement indoors and heavy living during the winter, and the torpid condition of your system brought about by cold weather, have made your blood impure and weak, so that now eruptions appear on your face and body. You lack vitality, strength and animation. Your appetite is poor and you feel all tired out. From any druggist get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It contains just the blood-purifying herbs and other substances that you need. It purifies and strengthens the blood, makes the rich red blood that you must have to feel well, look well, eat and sleep well. Hood's Sarsaparilla is not simply a spring medicine. It is an all-the-year-round blood purifier and tonic—but it is the best spring medicine. Remember it has been the tonic for forty years. Be sure to get Hood's.

R.D. Wrenn of Tennis Fame Kills 1, Maims 2 in an Auto Mishap

TUXEDO PARK, N. Y., May 4.—A touring car, driven and owned by Robert D. Wrenn, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, ran down a group of persons at the entrance to Tuxedo Park late last night, killing one man and injuring two men and a woman.

Robert D. Wrenn, an organizer and chairman of St. Mary's Episcopal church, was killed. Charles Spreckley, sexton, was seriously injured and his wife suffered a broken arm besides sustaining internal injuries. Alvin Norwood of Tuxedo was less seriously hurt.

The touring car, a 1934 model, was driven by Wrenn, who was with him at the time of the accident. The car was traveling at a high rate of speed when it struck the group of persons.

VANITY BOX HAS JURY SURPRISED

Attorney for Diggs Exposes Hidden Mystery in Ida Pearrings Case

neath a hinged clasp, but there it was, "Do you know this man Turner?" "No, sir," "How did the name get there?" "You'd better ask the man who put it there."

Coplin explained further and found a powder puff.

Pearrings discovered another name, "Isadore Steinberg, 298 Market street," but this, it developed, was the name of a jeweler.

A post card was shown the jury written to Turner, but Miss Pearrings who, she said, she believed was the man who had been with her at the time of the murder.

Pearrings then handed her some songs used in the Gaiety production of the "Candy Shoe," but she denied writing them, declaring the handwriting to be that of Miss Lillian Sullivan, a member of the chorus whom she had accompanied to rehearsals.

Nevertheless, in order to compare the writing the jury was forced to compare the handwriting of the girl with the handwriting of the man who had been with her at the time of the murder.

She admitted joining in the singing of the songs during rehearsal, but denied wanting to join the chorus.

"Didn't you ask your mother if you could, and when she said no, didn't you say to her, 'I'm of age and I'll do what I want'?" inquired Coplin.

"No, sir, never," replied the witness. David F. Leffler of Los Angeles, testified to the girl's age on behalf of the prosecution. He had worked for the Pearrings and on October 13, 1932, and was present when Ida was born.

Pearrings then handed her some songs used in the Gaiety production of the "Candy Shoe," but she denied writing them, declaring the handwriting to be that of Miss Lillian Sullivan, a member of the chorus whom she had accompanied to rehearsals.

Nevertheless, in order to compare the writing the jury was forced to compare the handwriting of the girl with the handwriting of the man who had been with her at the time of the murder.

usual about that. Mrs. Magee and Mrs. Hearst have been friendly for years and it was quite natural that she should visit the regent as she has done on several past occasions. I am convinced that the facts of Mrs. Magee's dismissal were not a subject for conversation during the time she was Mrs. Hearst's guest.

SILENT AS TO CHANGE.

On the point that he is to leave the faculty as a sequel to the dismissal of Mrs. Magee, either voluntarily or by request, Professor Magee denied any information. He declared that he had no information.

Although President Wheeler declined to comment upon the reported disagreement between him and Mrs. Hearst on the basis of Mrs. Magee's dismissal, attaches of his office treated the report as having no foundation. Clare M. Torrey stated that there has been no such happening upon his knowledge and that it was not even aware that Mrs. Hearst had been in Berkeley.

DR. VAN HORN IN NEW PULPIT

Pastor Greeted by Members of First Congregational Church

In a natural, self-possessed manner and with a smile, Rev. Francis J. Van Horn, pastor-elect of the First Congregational church of this city, entered the auditorium of that church yesterday morning, where a thousand members of the parish and representatives of the various denominational churches, greeted the preacher, who is the successor of Rev. H. A. Jann, resigned. He was escorted to the pulpit by Professor C. S. Nash, president of the Pacific Theological Seminary, who extended the words of greeting on behalf of the congregation.

His leader, the congregation rose as Van Horn stepped upon the platform and remained standing until he addressed them. He glanced around the auditorium and displayed a pleased expression as he beheld many faces which he recognized as parishioners who formerly attended his church of Seattle, from which he resigned to accept the local call.

THEOLOGY "SUBLINE SCIENCE."

The text of Dr. Van Horn's sermon was "Lo, I am with you always." His subject was "The Living Christ of the Twentieth Century." In the course of his address he spoke of the historic Christ as well as the living Christ. He said: "Many who have not a clear idea of the historic Christ have not a knowledge of the living Christ. I believe in dogmas and doctrines and we must fashion something definite about Christ, the man of Nazareth. Theology is the subline of all sciences. We have no reason to apologize for the theology of the world. We should give honor to those who theorize and we should reverence the man who believes what he thinks. Everyone should believe in the historic and the living Christ. I command the living Christ, who belongs to all people, all classes and all races. He brings to man, that which satisfies—a living vital Christ. He is the answer to the puzzling problems of life. Christ's coming into a man's life, means freedom. Why should our lives be in bondage because of our religious views? The living Christ is our victory. My ambition is to bring the living Christ before the church.

"It is the conception of the living Christ, one who is a personality as well as a historical character and the center of all doctrinal teaching. It reminds me of the words of Thomas Merton: 'I know Christ better than any man in Hartford, and if he were in this town I know he would speak to me.'"

After the sermon almost the entire congregation went to the restroom and shook hands with the new pastor, to whom the members of the congregation were introduced by Rev. Ray Frederick Carter, assistant pastor. Dr. Van Horn will be tendered an informal reception at the church parlors next Wednesday evening, when he will meet members of the congregation.

FRANKLIN LANDS ANOTHER RECORD

Sacramento and Return on a
12-Gallon Supply of Red
Crown

A long-distance fuel economy run under adverse conditions was made yesterday (Sunday) by the Franklin representatives, who are gratified over the results. In a trip to Sacramento and return, covering a distance of 268.1 miles, against a strong wind most of the way, a total of 12 gallons of gasoline was used, an average of one gallon every 22.1-3 miles. The average speed made during the run was 25.15 miles an hour. On account of repairs being made on the Dublin canyon road a roundabout journey over a rough road was necessary. On the return, on the return 9 hours and 35 minutes, a total of 10 hours and 40 minutes. E. L. Baker, resident engineer of the John F. McLean Company on the Pacific coast, was at the wheel of the 1934 Franklin Six "30" touring car in which the run was made, and others in the party were John Sturges, foreman of the San Francisco shops of the company; Howard Cole, stock clerk in the agency in that city; William Muller, a California agency and a TRID-UNE representative.

KNOW THE TRAFFIC LAWS.

For the convenience of the motoring public the traffic laws applying to motor cars in the chief cities and towns on the Pacific coast are set forth in condensed form in a new booklet just issued by the Standard Oil Company under the "Traffic Regulations." It is a revised edition of the popular "Traffic Regulations" compiled and distributed by the oil company last fall. Since then the changes in state laws and local regulations have come and to note such changes the booklet has been revised and enlarged. The booklet will be principal cities in the coast states are so nearly uniform that in a majority of cases a general code serves. This has been compiled for the Standard Oil booklet. However, it is the exceptions that often bring trouble to the touring motorist. "Traffic Regulations" special effort has been made to supply motorists with data of this nature. All the matter it contains regarding laws and regulations applying to traffic is a careful compilation from authoritative sources, and the booklet will be forwarded "Traffic Regulations" without charge on application.

PANTAGES

Harry Bulger, wearer of eccentric makeup and singer of still more eccentric songs, scored 100 out of a possible 100 yesterday in a target practice of mirth at the Pantages stage. From the moment he first stepped on the stage, his coat tails dancing behind him, to the moment he stepped off, this time with a flourish, he was a success. The audience was hardly a moment that the audience wasn't shouting. That's why Bulger is one of the biggest stars in the Pantages crowd but add to his success.

PARK RULES.

The California State Automobile Association is in receipt of the rules and regulations governing automobiles in Sequoia National Park also General Grant National Park, the following of which is a brief synopsis:

"No automobiles will be permitted in either of said parks unless owner thereof secures a written permit from the acting superintendent or his representative. These may be obtained by writing the superintendent at Three Rivers, Cal. The application must show the name of the owner, number of machine, name of driver and inclusive dates for which the permit is desired, and be accompanied by a fee of $5.

"In Sequoia National Park automobiles and motorcycles will be permitted on the Giant Forest road from the western boundary to Camp Sierra not earlier than 7 a. m. and not later than 3:30 p. m.

"No automobiles shall leave Camp Sierra in the direction of the western park boundary later than 6 p. m.

"In General Grant National Park automobiles will be permitted only in the Mill Wood road, the Round Meadow road, the North road north of its junction with the north end of the Round Meadow road and the tourist camp ground and return between the hours of 7 a. m. and between the hours of 3:30 and 6:30 p. m."

The rules governing automobiles in the Yosemite valley have not been published.

Information can be obtained from the California State Automobile Association, 637 Market street, San Francisco.

ROCKLIN FIRE

LOSS $20,000

Flames Destroy Business Buildings; Youth Hurt in Auto Accident

ROCKLIN, May 4.—Fire here yesterday caused a loss estimated at $20,000. Flames started in a stable belonging to A. C. Porter & Co. and before the hose cart could be brought and enough men mustered the store adjoining was ablaze.

Immediately the fire spread to the wooden structure next to it, and was quelled only when a vacant lot intervened between the Postoffice and the burning mass of the store.

The Postoffice was saved only by hard work.

FRESNO, May 4.—Ollie Coon, aged 18, lies in a hospital in a local sanatorium as the result of an automobile accident this afternoon at River view, when a large automobile went over a steep grade.

The accident is forty feet wide, and William Dismann, the driver, is thought to have lost control of his car. Coon was pinned under the car. Dismann, Charlie Coon and Ivan Leininger were injured by flying glass. Coon is the son of a rancher near Herndon.

NEVADA CITY, May 4.—News was received here that the gold Maculey, a mining man of this district, was thrown into jail at Santa Barbara, Mexico, along with other Americans, when the marines took Vera Cruz. Threats have been made that the mine party will be executed. Santa Barbara is controlled by the rebel faction. Maculey managed to smuggle a letter to the border, where it was mailed to relatives here.

FRESNO, May 4.—Plans have been completed for the tri-State convention of the United Commercial Travelers, which opens in this city Thursday for a three-day session.

STOCKTON, May 4.—The disappearance of Charles Molen, a Roberts Island farmer, has caused local friends to be alarmed. Molen is known to have had considerable money on his person.

STOCKTON, May 4.—Charles Why the San Joaquin potato king, enjoyed yesterday the most expensive turtle on the market. The turtle, which weighed eleven which Why had shipped to him from China, the others dying en route. The duty on Why's turtle was $5.

AUTO STRIKES CURB.

J. H. Lacey, a prominent oil man of Coalinga, visiting Oakland, was slightly injured yesterday when his automobile struck the curb at San Pablo avenue and Park street.

Local Playhouses

ORPHEUM

Harry Gilford, star of years ago, comedian of the old school, and original "Baron Sands," appeared before the Orpheum audience yesterday to once more give them a glimpse of the character that he made famous—and that did not in any way detract from what fame he himself possessed. He's the same old Gilford—not so old either—he's old as he is, and on the stage, and in the audience, he doesn't feel old. His imitations of anything that is as still as near perfect as imitations can be, his comedy is as clean as a whistle, and his wit is as sharp as a needle.

The first old gentleman of the American stage, is not disputed. The act is more than worth seeing.

Ruth Rove, billed as "The Princess of Ragtime," Miss Rove sings "colossal" songs to syncopated time, and does it very prettily. It's hard to keep her from smiling while she's on the stage.

Tom C. Leahy, with Rona Vivienne, offers a skit with a little Irish in it, and some singing. Miss Vivienne rendered several songs, and Leahy danced. Leahy and Leahy have been in musical comedy on the coast for years.

Rose Crouch and George Welch, an Indian-rubber couple who can't keep still, while making and can't keep silent when moving, present a series of comic songs that will laugh you. Annette Woodman and J. J. Woodman, the famous "Dancing School in dancing, appearing in modern ballroom dances.

Miss Leahy, who recently has leaped into fame, is another hit of the bill. Diamond is an actor in his dancing and renders several most difficult selections. His partner, Rona Vivienne, is a dancer of harmonies is different, and succeeds in making his offering a clean-cut hit, and different from the usual vaudeville act.

Ben Deely and Marie Wayne, assisted by the big girl and the "Probs," opened the second week in "The Big Show" at the Orpheum yesterday. The place continues to jump, and the Deelys, who are doing for the show, are all Deelys when they are on the stage. The Deelys are in the new show, "My Heart is Out in California," seems to be getting more and more popular.

Norman and a lively musical melange, cleverly staged and well executed. Exclusive motion pictures round out the bill.

PANTAGES

The audience was hardly a moment that the audience wasn't shouting. That's why Bulger is one of the biggest stars in the Pantages crowd but add to his success.

Tom Moore is another comedian of the "Pantages" type. He can imitate "Pantages" and does. He sings a song between each imitation, and the audience doesn't seem to mind that.

Miss Jessie Shuley, supported by a clever company, presents a tabloid version of "Under Two Flags," a play in which she plays a girl who is a striking success. Arthur Cyril, John L. Gorman, Gordon Davis, and Grace Willard, a team with Miss Shuley in the play.

Bettina Bruce and Charles Keane offer a lively skit in "Cupid, M. D." and Hazel and Johnnie Wagner appear in a juggling act, and a comedy duo, the Merry Troupe, and excellent motion pictures, round out the bill.

"Brewster's Millions," some times designated "a comedy of adventure," as presented at the popular Oakland Theater yesterday (and continuing until Wednesday night) is certainly an interesting, well-sustained photo play. There is considerable variety in its settings.

There is more than one little undercurrent of sound sense beneath the flow of "nonsense" in "Brewster's Millions." It is made obvious that getting rich becomes easier as a man's fortunes rise and his requirements increase. There is a lesson in the play.

There is more than one little undercurrent of sound sense beneath the flow of "nonsense" in "Brewster's Millions." It is made obvious that getting rich becomes easier as a man's fortunes rise and his requirements increase. There is a lesson in the play.

Take Brewster's case. He invests the money in a "sure losing proposition" in Wall street in an effort to dissipate some of his "unwelcome" money, and the proposition turns out a winner. He backs a flabby, fat pugilist, hoping to lose, and wins. Everything money touches with the hope of losing some of his money, turns out just the reverse, and he wins. He goes at impoverishing himself in an unwise and foolish way, and he is gloriously confident that it will be the easiest thing in the world to spend one million dollars, but he falls into traps of his own setting, furnishing the audience with exceptionally good comedy by his dread of good fortune and misery at increasing his "unwelcome" fortune.

IDORA PARK.

The "Motorcycle Maxie" is the latest invention of "Red" Armstrong and his reckless partner, Vernon, in the daredevil feat the two speed fiends have been staging in the big motorhome at Idora Park. In this extraordinary cycle dance, the two speeders execute a number of maneuvers corresponding to the modern dances they attempt to imitate. The crowds have watched aghast as the two cycle stars, in a mad race up to the very edge of the cup, whirl and drop and circle, controlling their powerful motorcycles as if by magic. The contest is the most popular ever staged at Idora Park.

Band concerts of special merit with several superb selections for the grand opera singers will be given tonight and tomorrow night in the theater building by Thavul's band. Wednesday night the band will play in the outdoor amphitheater. The band concerts, like those in canopied amphitheater, will be free.

The regular weekly symphony concert, which has become of special educational interest to music students, will be given tomorrow night in the outdoor amphitheater. A Beethoven symphony, and several Wagnerian numbers will be rendered.

In the Thavul's concert emphasis is to be laid upon the band selections, and in place of the tabloid opera, the grand opera singers will appear as concert singers in several operatic selections with the band.

YE LIBERTY.

Isabelle Fletcher, Oakland favorite, begins her farewell week at Ye Liberty tonight in "The New York Idols," a comedy in which Mrs. Fiske made so pronounced a hit some time ago. Miss Fletcher will, declares the management, have one of her best roles in this offering, which will be magnificently staged. No pains have been spared in the production and all the Liberty favorites are cast in adequate parts.

The play was written by Landou Mitchell, and accurately reflects high society life in New York. The comedy and all the problems of love forward to with considerable interest.

REVEALS POLICE SECRET OF BALL

Captain of Detectives Points
Proudly to Clean Record at All-Nations' Dance

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Captain of Detectives Mooney today pointed proudly to the lack of any complaints regarding the activity of pickpockets or sneak thieves at the Ball of All Nations at the Machinery Hall in the Exposition grounds Saturday night, which was attended by 15,000 people, and in connection with the clean record thus established, whispered a secret, which he would not have divulged for worlds before the dance.

Nine of the picked sleuths of the upper office were sent to the masquerade but contrary to the usual customs of the police, they were not visible to the reveling throng. Instead, they were a part and parcel of the dancers, being carefully disguised.

had his station, but several of them blushing admitted today that they had tripped the light fantastic with some of the bells of the smart set who believed that they were ragging with their own charmed circle.

Those who thus disguised themselves and whose presence prevented the activity of "dips" were Detectives George Richards, Patrick O'Connell, Frank Lord, James Cottle, Dave Murphy, Henry Laim, and others.

Manuel De La Guerra.

O'Connell, who boasts a rich Irish brogue, went as Elias Dory and many a maid was busy guessing who was hidden behind the entrancing costume of the Irish lad.

CREATION PICTURES DRAW ENTHUSIASTIC HOUSES

The Creation pictures at the Macdonough Theater are attracting very large crowds, many being turned away. This story of Creation and History of the Ages is a great educational and philanthropic movement launched by the International Bible Students' Association. A phonograph accompaniment of the appropriate words of instruction as the pictures move before you on the canvas.

Famous paintings of Bible pictures are also thrown upon the screen. These are in color and bring to the people of this city a glimpse of the great artists and the conception they have of Bible subjects.

There are miles of these wonderful films, scores of masterpieces, but all are not shown during one performance for that would require eight hours. They will be shown in sections. Part I will be shown today and Tuesday, Part II Wednesday and Thursday, Part III Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Each part is complete in itself.

were in readiness for immediate action should there arise any hostile movement on the part of the Huerta forces in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

Reflecting some credence to statements made by Mexico City refugees that General Huerta was in desperate straits and some of his own supporters were considering making a demand that he resign to be succeeded by Minister of War Blanquet, messages have been received here in diplomatic circles to the effect that Huerta's strength was rapidly waning.

Operations, it was learned here, in the oil fields at Tampico are to be resumed as soon as the conditions reference that he will never resign is not taken seriously by Huerta's followers here. He is said to be sincerely desirous of bringing the whole controversy to a speedy end.

CARRANZA OBSTACLE

Despite the refusal of Carranza, constitutionalist chief, to declare an armistice with the Huerta government, the South American envoys today resumed their sessions, still hopeful that events of the next three or four days would broaden the horizon of their negotiations to include the entire Mexican problem. Carranza, declining the suggestion of a truce, asserted a suspension of hostilities "would only the civil war now going on in Mexico between the usurper, Huerta, and the constitutionalist army under my command."

With the rebel chief's reply in hand the envoys proceeded to their task of attempting to settle issues between Huerta and the Washington government. Hope that Carranza's followers eventually might be brought into the proceedings was based on a prospect for appointment of delegates of all parties in the dispute to meet with the mediators. First response to the envoys' request for the naming of delegates was seen here in some quarters in the ordering of Joaquin D. Casasus, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, from Carlsbad to Washington. While the nature of his mission was not announced, yet it was believed he had been chosen to act for Huerta in the proposed conference. If Huerta were to name a delegate hope was expressed that the mediators might reach the broad field of negotiations at which they aim.

HUMORS OF RESIGNATION

Mexican City rumors heard in Vera Cruz stated suggestion were circulating in the capital that Huerta might resign and a provisional president be appointed with whom Carranza might consent to treat with the object of facilitating mediation. Such reports were received here without comment.

Carranza's formal declaration of a truce was the first opposition the mediators had encountered in their negotiations that had been marked by swiftly moving developments. Huerta and the Washington government had accepted the "good offices" of the envoys of Brazil and Chile in an attempt at mediation and Carranza had accepted them "in principle."

Huerta had agreed to a truce between his forces and those of the United States and the constitutionalists. It was said, if the three factors in the Mexican crisis decided to appoint mediators, the rebels would represent the Mexican question within scope of the envoys' endeavor. Carranza's note replying to the armistice proposal charged that the "international conflict with the United States was intentionally provoked by Huerta."

For the solution of that Carranza stated "I hurriedly accepted, in principle only, the good offices of Brazil, Argentina and Chile and which act is independent of our internal strife for liberty and law."

ENVOY SENT

Before Huerta ordered former Ambassador Casasus to Washington early today, Rafael Zuzaran, Carranza's personal agent, had arrived here. It was believed he would be available as a constitutionalist delegate for the proposed conferences with the mediators. Zuzaran, the rebel chief's representative, had been seen by the envoys of the United States, and he would name such a representative.

The South American envoys planned, it was said, if the three factors in the Mexican crisis decided to appoint mediators, the rebels would represent the Mexican question within scope of the envoys' endeavor. Carranza's note replying to the armistice proposal charged that the "international conflict with the United States was intentionally provoked by Huerta."

For the solution of that Carranza stated "I hurriedly accepted, in principle only, the good offices of Brazil, Argentina and Chile and which act is independent of our internal strife for liberty and law."

DISCUSS ELIGIBLES

A long list of eligibles was discussed. Among them were John Bassett Moore, former counsel for the state department; John Lind, Henry White, former ambassador to France; former Secretary of State Olney; Hannis Taylor, former minister to Spain, and Dr. David Jayne Hill, former ambassador to Germany.

Sessions between the mediators and the governmental delegates probably would take place in some quiet resort away from routine influences, much as the negotiations between Japan and Russia were completed at Portsmouth, N. H. What the result of negotiations might be could not be foreseen.

With the rebel forces sweeping southward, close associates of Carranza here today said no mediation between Huerta and the constitutionalists was possible. They declared any attempt by the mediator to include a project for a general adjustment of the war-scarred republic's ills would be regarded as outside the field of their endeavors.

MOST IMPORTANT SHOKING OF NEW NEMO WEEK MODELS

WE have been asked many times: "What is the meaning of Nemo Week?" "What is the inducement to buy Nemo at that time, when I can buy them any day in the year?"

These inquiries do not come from the hundreds of thousands of women who have benefited by Nemo Weeks of the past ten years, and who are Nemo enthusiasts. For the information of others, we will explain what Nemo Week stands for:

ECONOMY placing in stock the very latest Nemo models and replenishing their stocks of the well-known and popular numbers that are always in universal demand. This gives you selection from full lines of fresh, new goods, and the very newest fabrics and styles; therefore, the BEST POSSIBLE VALUES.

EDUCATION During this great trade movement, dealers vie with each other to give the best Nemo corset service. This is highly important, especially this season, when Fashion's requirement is for a fashionable figure rather than a fashionable gown. The keen rivalry between expert fitters in the various stores insures you their most able assistance in the selection of the corset best adapted for each individual figure.

The Rivalry of Nemo Week is in SERVICE—not PRICE
Nemo Week this year brings you the only complete standardized line of corsets in existence, from the old short models to the extreme of present fashion, including—

KOPSERVICE—Four models—at $5.00
SELF-REDUCING—Thirty models—$3.50 up
LASTIKOPS—Ten models at $3.50 up

All our former successes will be eclipsed by this Nemo Week. Practically every woman will realize that she cannot afford to miss this opportunity to study the new Nemo models, which will be found in every leading Corset Department.

All Nemo Corsets represent at least twice as much value, in material and making, as any other corsets sold at the same prices. This is a bold statement, but its truth is known to millions of Nemo wearers. BE A WISE WOMAN! During Nemo Week, get better acquainted with Nemo hygienic comfort and perfect style. BE SURE that you get the RIGHT MODEL in the RIGHT SIZE, and that every corset bears the trademarks "NEMO" and "LASTIKOPS."

Please remember—Monday, May 4, to Saturday, May 9—at your favorite store.

All Nemo Corsets are Designed and Manufactured Under the Supervision of the Nemo Hygienic-Fashion Institute, New York

EXCHANGE BITTER MESSAGES

Constitutionalists and Huerta leaders at Manzanillo, Mexico, have been exchanging bitter messages, according to a report to the Navy Department today from Rear Admiral Howard, who has read several of the letters.

Admiral Howard said all was quiet at Manzanillo. He made no mention of the reported blowing up of the Mexican liner Luella.

Secretary of State Bryan, after conferring with the President, said this government was not ready to announce who would represent it in the mediation negotiations, or whether there would be more than one American delegate.

Late reports seemed to strengthen the belief that the mediation conference would be elsewhere than in Washington.

DEMAND WATERWORKS

Another fruitless demand by Mexican soldiers for the surrender of the waterworks just outside Vera Cruz, was reported to the War Department today by General Funston.

The report said Mexican officers called on an American outpost to surrender, but made no vigorous effort to enforce their demand. The Mexicans retired and no shots were fired. General Funston has asked for instructions as to contemplated steps.

The Mexican situation in all its aspects was again before the South American mediators, when they resumed their sessions today. They went to the State Department for a reply to their request for the appointment of a delegate from the United States, with his name. If the appointee had been determined on.

It was learned that Carranza had sent a further telegram to the mediators, inquiring as to either to their request for the appointment of a Carranza delegate, the extent of his functions and whether this would be limited to the controversy between the United States and Huerta, beyond which, Carranza has shown no signs of negotiating.

The tense situation at Mexico City is giving much concern, as it is realized a crisis may come from that quarter at any time. But the mediators are determined to go steadily forward in shaping the procedure for their meeting with the delegates from the three parties.

Their sessions continued to be most informal, no note having been taken up to this time and all decisions having been reached by unanimous agreement. They began late this morning, having been together until after midnight.

HUERTA MAY RESIGN

In circles close to the Huerta representatives the news of Carranza's flat refusal to agree to an armistice was not taken as final. It was pointed out that it would have been surprising if the constitutionalists had accepted the armistice in the view of getting possession of Saltillo. Once in possession of that federal stronghold, the attitude of the constitutionalists toward the armistice, might be modified.

Oaklander to Have Guard on Mexican Trip

John H. Nicholl, a well-known capitalist, owning much property in Richmond, is planning to leave his Oakland home this week for a visit to Lower California. It is understood that Nicholl has an opportunity to secure a valuable concession in that section and plans to make a personal investigation of the proposition. Nicholl will go to San Diego and outfit himself with a number of American guards before entering Mexican territory.

REFUGEE TRAIN DELAYED

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 4.—Seven trains of the Eleventh Cavalry, which passed through Little Rock yesterday, were delayed by a washout at Bridgeport, Okla. The Canadian river, swollen by heavy rains, carried out a bridge, occasioning seven hours delay to the troop trains. The trains were detained.

EDISON AT WORK ON TALKING PICTURES

WEST ORANGE, N. J., May 4.—Much against the advice of his physician and his family, Thomas A. Edison is again burning the midnight oil, it became known here today that in a week Edison has spent less than six hours in his home, Glenmont, in Llewellyn Park.

Practically all day long and the better part of the night Little Rock yesterday, were delayed by a washout at Bridgeport, Okla. The Canadian river, swollen by heavy rains, carried out a bridge, occasioning seven hours delay to the troop trains. The trains were detained.

DEMONSTRATIONS AGAINST U. S. ARE HELD AT BRUSSELS

BRUSSELS, Belgium, May 4.—Under the auspices of the local Hispano-American committee there was a demonstration in this city today, in favor of Mexico and against the United States. Several hundred persons, chiefly students from the universities of Brussels, Liege and Louvain, took part. The demonstrators marched with flags to the Mexican legation, where speeches were made on the subject of American aggressions in Mexico.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The Mexican embassy here, now in charge of the Spanish ambassador, received a cablegram today from Carlos Pereyra, the Mexican minister to Belgium, announcing that enthusiastic demonstrations of sympathy for Mexico in its differences with the United States had been held yesterday at Brussels.

FORBES GOES SOUTH

SACRAMENTO, May 4.—Adjutant General E. A. Forbes left Sacramento last night for Calexico to investigate the Mexican border situation and to determine whether it is advisable to recall the California state troops. General Forbes makes the trip to the Mexican border at the direction of Governor Johnson and will advise the governor by wire upon his arrival at Calexico. General Forbes probably will visit the state troops who are on duty at Tia Juana in San Diego county.

U. S. Troopers on Border Fired Upon by Mexicans

EL PASO, May 4.—Two troopers of the Eleventh Cavalry patrolling the border east of El Paso were fired on by three Mexicans last night on the other side of the Rio Grande, according to a report made to officers at Fort Bliss today. The Americans were not struck and did not return the fire.

Three ten-train sections carrying approximately 2000 federal soldiers left today and four more sections will depart tomorrow.

Each section was under command of one of the fourteen federal generals who sought safety across the border after their disastrous defeat by General Villa at Ojinaga.

Lieutenant Colonel Frederick Perkins of the Twentieth United States Infantry was in command of the transfer to Fort Wingate. Three companies of the first battalion of his regiment and the entire second battalion guarded the passengers on the journey and will turn them over to the guard already established at Fort Wingate.

SALAZAR TO BE TRIED

General Jose Maria Salazar, under indictment in New Mexico on charges of having violated the neutrality laws, was among the federalists in the first section. He was confined in the stockade at Fort Wingate, but will be taken temporarily to Fort Wingate to await his trial which is set for some time this morning at Santa Fe.

Maximo Castillo, charged with being the leader of the band responsible for the Cumbras tunnel explosion and fire on the Mexican and Northwestern Railroad, also was sent on the first section accompanied by a special guard.

With the exception of the little group of United States soldiers which occupied the end sections and platforms of each car, the Pullman porters of the tourist sleepers, of which the trains were composed, were the most martial figures on the trains. Only shreds of uniforms remain to most of the prisoners and no attempt to maintain any military formation was made by the little clumps of men, women and children, which suffered from the hardest winter stockade dragging with them varied assortments of pots and pans and various household articles.

One entire personal baggage of one cheerful looking Mexican woman consisted of one new and entirely unused broom.

MEXICANS GATHER

A swarm of Mexican men and women gathered last night and early today as close to the stockade as the guard would permit, and shouted farewell messages and greetings to their friends inside the wire fence. Many wrote notes and tossed them into the air in the hope that the stiff breeze blowing toward the fence

TO STUDY LAW OF WATER DISTRICT

Announcement was made today of the judiciary committee of the Metropolitan water district league, appointed for the specific purpose of looking into the water district law to suggest amendments which may be found advisable. The executive committee of the league at its meeting last week decided that defects in the law, which have been made much of by opponents of the water district, should be investigated by competent men, and that if it should be found advisable to amend the law, this can be done by the next legislature, which will meet before it will be possible for the directors of the water district to have taken any definite action.

The committee, which has been named by former Governor George C. Pardee, president of the league, will be headed by W. F. Edwards, a well known contractor of Alameda, who suggested the creation of a judiciary committee. The committee is declared to be the strongest and most representative that could have been picked. Its personnel follows:

W. F. Edwards, contractor, Alameda (chairman). Benjamin H. Pendleton, former president of the Oakland city council and framer of the famous Pendleton-Titus agreement, which saved water consumers of Oakland over $900,000 in water rates.

J. J. Jessup, city engineer of Berkeley. Oliver Ellsworth, mayor of Piedmont.

H. A. Johnson, attorney and president of the Santa Fe Improvement club of Alameda.

Mrs. Sarah C. Borland, president of the Women's Water District League, and well known club woman of Oakland.

This committee will commence work immediately upon the study of the water district law, and will prepare recommendations in the matter. A thorough study will be made of the bill from all points of view. The committee will receive suggestions from all those who are interested in the correction of any faults which may be contained in the bill as it now stands, and in any defects.

An election for this water district will be held June 2," declared Edwards. "It will be some time thereafter before an election can be held, so choose the directors on the board. The Railroad Commission will then be asked to go into this property and fix a price upon it, and that investigation will take at least 60, and probably more, days before the election can be called."

"It will be easy in this time to go where it needs correction, and what changes are necessary. The correction of defects can be made by the state legislature before the water district gets under way as an operating body, so that any additional safeguards that are necessary may be made by that placed by that time."

"I have chosen representative people on this committee who have judgment and stability," declared Dr. Pardee. "The work will be of a very important character, and I have great faith that this work will be well done."

WASHINGTON, May 4.—President Wilson, on recommendation of Secretary Lane, today appointed Thomas Riggs Jr. as the third member of the Alaskan Railroad Commission. Mr. Riggs is an engineer of the Coast and Geodetic Survey and was one of the chief engineers of the Alaskan-Canadian boundary. He made a survey extending from the Pacific to the Arctic Ocean.

THE ENTIRE COMMISSION, consisting of William C. Edes, Lieutenant Frederick Myers and Mr. Riggs, with a party of assistants, will leave later this morning for Alaska to begin surveys.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Superior Judge Graham today received in the mail a crumpled, time-worn bit of foolscap purporting to be the will of Patrick J. Dougherty, executed in 1880. Who the testator is, or was, or who his relatives may be, there is no record to show, but he makes disposition of four pieces of property in Bernal Heights. The clerk of the court is investigating.

BANKER'S CHAUFFEUR HURT IN COLLISION

J. J. Collins, of 828 Twenty-first street, chauffeur for J. F. Carlson, president of the Central National Bank, was slightly injured today at noon when an automobile truck struck the banker's car from the rear.

Collins, alone in the auto, was driving down the East Eleventh street hill at Fourth avenue in East Oakland. The car was sent in a somersault down the hill and Collins was thrown out.

He was taken to the Emergency Hospital. The police are investigating.

POTTERY MAKERS ASK LOWER FREIGHT RATE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The Stelzer Terra Cotta & Pottery Works, the California Pottery Company, N. Clark & Son, the Oakland Art Pottery and Terra Cotta Works, and the Pacific Coast Pottery and Terra Cotta Company today filed a complaint against the railroad rates on clay products.

THE LIVER AS AID TO BLOOD PURITY

Important as it is to keep the bowels open, it should be remembered that such action does not necessarily mean that the liver is being stimulated. The action of S. S. S. is a natural liver tonic, but not a bowel mover. It works in the liver cells to avoid in the natural and necessary function of converting from the blood certain constituents into what are known as assimilable products. These are readily absorbed into the body tissues to constantly provide new and healthy material for that which is being destroyed by the energy of tissue changes.

The presence of any blood trouble naturally suggests a sluggish liver, but there is required these medicinal properties which, upon reaching the liver, will remove the catalytic element to keep on through the blood circulation to do battle with impurities wherever they may have settled.

Rheumatism, clajarr, anemia, most skin diseases and other results of impure blood while implicating the liver by their morbid influences, are quickly checked by S. S. S. Its action throughout the blood circulation results in the stimulation of the tissue cells to the healthy and judicious selection of their own essential nutrient.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store. Take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood is not pure, it will not be long before it will be.

Jan. 27, 1914: "I suffered over eight years with eczema. My hands looked like they had been burned by fire and peeled off until they were only raw flesh. I was told it was eczema. It itched and burned me so that I could not sleep at night. I tried all sorts of eczema salves and one prescription after another but nothing gave me any relief until I used Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. After the first application my hands never itched or burned again, and were well in one week. I want every sufferer from eczema to know that there is a cure in Resinol." Useless and Useful Women

(By LILLIAN RUSSELL)

EVERY one born into this world is capable of being of some use, just as every animal, bird, fish or insect has its special duty to perform in the world. Yet there are men and women—more women than men, however—who go through this world without making themselves useful to anyone, even themselves. They do not know why they do anything; they just follow their never born into this world with a purpose or edge for lack of necessity.

If these women marry, as they generally do, they are dominated absolutely by their husbands. Their minds become smaller than the minds of children; they haven't an opinion of their own, but must have permission of their masters to make even a friendly call. Such a woman never commands respect from any one, least of all from her neglected by her husband and even ignored by her children. Such women are the real life stories of the poor and go no further than to say, "Well, that doesn't come into our lives, so why should we worry?" Women of that nature are empty headed nonentities. They can be no help to anyone, and they must be cursed by being just the same for all time.

Now then there are women and scores of them who live every moment of their lives full of interest in humanity and its joys and sufferings, ready to help anywhere and everywhere. I know of one superb woman on the operative stage who did her own housework, bore eight children, brought them up cleverly, supported an invalid husband and sang in grand opera all these years. She is a model to women who shy at work and having children. She is a prominent and prosperous singer today in America.

Work, whether by necessity or the desire for occupation, develops the mind. And as the mind develops so does the glory of womanhood, the capacity for usefulness and the beauty of humanity.

Remember: The mind is a motor that goes on and on in its progress, whether it be by book study or the study of humanity.

WOMEN SHOULD TAKE WARNING.

If the statement made at a New York Assembly of women, that healthy American women are so rare that they are almost extinct, is true, to take warning and look to their health. It may be headaches, backaches, dragging down pains, nervousness, mental depression, that are tell-tale symptoms of some organic derangement for which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—a simple remedy made from roots and herbs—is a specific and may be relied upon to restore women to a healthy normal condition.

All that you must do to keep your chin firm is to lift your head and blow a bit of imaginary dust downward, keeping the chin in the air for about five minutes, supposing the dust to be first on one side of you and then on the other. Try this before your glass and see how it rounds out your neck and tightens the muscles. Another good exercise is to throw the head back as far as possible, then move it from side to side, still keeping the head back. I am sorry, but I cannot give you information in regard to the article you mentioned. I shall be glad to send you the formulas you asked for if you will send me the required stamped, addressed envelope.

B. R.—There is positively nothing in the peroxide and ammonia treatment for the growth of superfluous hair. This will not kill the hair with one or two applications. It will take quite a little time to remove the hair entirely. The peroxide will bleach the hair and the ammonia will gradually kill the roots. I would advise you to try it, but be persistent.

MISS G.—The scaling wax probably would pull the hairs off the arms, but they will return unless the roots are killed. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you a shampoo for blonde hair, also the French tonic for eyebrows.

The affair was in honor of Miss Minnie Chase, whose marriage to Alfred Stoddard will take place in June and now the guests suspected the betrothal of the hostess.

The announcement was made when Mrs. Alfred Gaultier was awarded first prize for the highest score of the afternoon. The prize was a dainty French poem, had had cards tied to the handle that told the interesting news.

EXPLORER DISCOVERS NEW SAPPHO POEM.

LONDON, May 4.—Professor Bernard P. Grenfell and Professor Arthur S. Hunt, directors of the Egyptian exploration fund, have discovered an unknown poem by Sappho. It is not quite complete, but contains passages which may be translated to read: "The fairest thing in all the world, some say is a host of horsemen, some a host of foot, some again a navy or ship, but to me the heart is beloved, and 'Woman is ever easy to bend when she thinks lightly of what is near and dear.'"

A manuscript which was found at Oxyrhynchus consists of 56 fragments, one of which is subscribed: "The First Book of the Lyrics of Sappho, 1323 lines."

Parts of about a dozen stanzas in addition to the aforesaid poem may be restored from this manuscript.

LOSES $10,000 JEWELS.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Mrs. Henry Hunt, who divorced her artist husband in Reno two years ago, is mourning the loss of $10,000 worth of jewelry. Mrs. Hunt was at dinner last Thursday night when a burglar entered her bedroom window and made his exit with all the jewelry in the apartment, including a gold watch, a platinum bracelet, a string of pearls and several rings and pins set with diamonds.

SOMETHING NEW FROM PARIS

Madame Isebell's Beauty Lesson.

For the Adolescent Girl.
A former pupil sent her fifteen year old daughter to me with the request that I examine her, pointing out the cause of her poor appearance and advise as to how to remedy it. As a child, the girl had been very attractive—fair, fair of skin, with golden hair, but at fifteen the skin was muddy and examined under the microscope, found to be full of impurities; her hair had lost its gloss and was stringy and poor in color.
That was a year ago. The girl's skin is now normal and glowing with color, her hair soft and glossy, but it took a year of constant exercise to bring it to a condition that simple came from neglect. There is no time in the woman's life when beauty culture is so important as between fourteen and sixteen, the period of adolescence. Mothers are not always aware of this fact, and girls too busy or too ignorant to care for themselves.

SKIN DISEASES OF YOUNG GIRLS.

At fourteen there are peculiar changes in the body and in the construction of the skin that render it peculiarly liable to skin diseases. If the outer skin becomes torpid so that waste matter is not properly eliminated, pores become clogged and what we term blackheads is the result.
Obstructions in the sebaceous glands or the sweat ducts result in occasional pimples, or if not arrested in time of chronic acne. This condition is sometimes accepted as inevitable at a certain period of a girl's life, which is a wrong assumption, for while the skin is susceptible to trouble at this time, much can be done to prevent and remedy it.

The skin must be kept in good working condition, nourished by healthy blood and stimulated by proper care, so that the pores are kept active and the body skin should first be looked after. If the skin is thick and muddy, it is a sign that something is wrong in the diet and, probably, that not enough exercise is taken.

DIET IN RELATION TO HEALTH.

A girl who desires a clear, healthy skin should drink not less than three pints of water daily and between meals. She should eat plenty of fruit and fresh green vegetables. Sugar and starch in excess are bad for the skin, and when there is sign of skin trouble, cut candy out absolutely. In place of the usual potatoes, rice and bread, replacing these with green vegetables and salads. Onions, spinach and dandelion greens are all good for the complexion and the juice of half a lemon, taken before breakfast in a glass of hot water, two or three times a week, is a stomach tonic that reflects very quickly on the skin.

STRENGTH RESTORED BY VINOL.

Strength and even life itself depends upon nourishment and proper assimilation of food, and unless digestion is good the whole body suffers.
Mrs. C. W. Busby of Mountville, W. Va., says: "For years I was in a weakened, run-down condition, and I could not find anything that would help me. Vinol was recommended and I tried it. Before I finished the first bottle I was better. I continued it and gotten several neighbors to take Vinol with the same result."
We know the great power of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, in building up all weakened, run-down persons, and for chronic coughs, colds and pulmonary trouble, and that is why we guarantee to return your money if it does not help you. The Owl Drug Co., Oakland, Calif.

Hatst and Things to Attract Eye of Midlady

Paris has again sent America new fancies for midlady's toilette, with the hatst and the low necks as much in vogue as earlier in the season.
The first cut shows a small black Milan straw, caught up across the front with a graceful bunch of white aligettes, while a few of the same fancies in black lend a charming finish to the opposite drape. The waist is of black charmeuse with low collar of white in the same material. A string of black beads finishes the costume. By the way, black has come into its own this season, "a touch of black" appearing on every frock, if not predominating.

The second cut shows a white tango costume. The waist is cut quite décolleté, having a wide, old-fashioned ruffle for the neck finish. The skirt has three ruffles at the top, giving the minaret appearance, while the skirt proper falls in graceful folds in the front, ending in a semi-train. A broad black tango girdle completes the costume.
The third costume shown is again a black charmeuse. The waist is cut extremely low, having a chin-strap front. The sleeves are of the same style seen everywhere. The skirt is quite simple, only a few gathers up the front relieving the otherwise plainness.

HOUSE PAYS TRIBUTE TO LATE I. S. PEPPER

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The House held a brief memorial session yesterday in tribute to the late Representative Irvn S. Pepper, of Davenport, Ia. Speaker Clark made the principal address.
"From the Central West," the Speaker said, "came this new member, who became at once a prime favorite in the House. He was true as steel. I never had a closer or better friend."
Representative Lester Mann, Representative Sherwood of Ohio, Representative Volmer, who succeeded Pepper; Representative Tower of Iowa, and others spoke.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 4.—Socialists of South Carolina, meeting in state convention here today, nominated J. H. Roberts of Charleston, for United States Senator, and R. B. Britton of Charleston, for governor.

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL FOR LATE H. R. BAKER

AURORA, Ill., May 4.—More than five thousand persons attended the funeral yesterday of Henry R. Baker, nephew of the late John W. Gates. Mr. Baker died last Monday in Colorado Springs.
His health had prevented Baker, who was promised him in the Gates will upon his graduation from a recognized university.
Baker had picked out his coffin, made all arrangements for his burial and asked that he be given a public funeral.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS SENT TO JAIL

GIRL RESCUED AND WOMEN JAIL ED GRILLED

Police Raid Dressmaking Parlor in Fashionable Panhandle District

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Amid homes and apartment houses in the fashionable panhandle district, three disguised police officers of the park station early this morning raided a dressmaking parlor at 1853 Oak street and arrested three inmates, besides rescuing a 13-year-old girl who was sent to the detention home.

Patrolman W. K. Hardy had information that a young girl was being harbored in a room frequently visited by men and sent Officer Wolenschlager, a new appointee to the force, inside the place to investigate. The policeman found Jessie P. Hall, aged 13, lying apparently ill in a room, the door of which was open, and in an adjoining apartment, half a dozen men reveling with three women. The policeman had no difficulty in purchasing liquor and as the result all persons were arrested. While he was inside, Wolenschlager succeeded in admitting Policeman Hardy, who hid in a closet and watched proceedings until the officers had obtained the evidence necessary.

One of the women arrested, Mrs. Agnes Hamilton, claims to be the mother of the Hall girl. She was charged with keeping a questionable resort, selling liquor without a license, and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The other women caught were Myrtle Wilson, charged with being an inmate of the place, and Louise Telford, a well known woman of the underworld, booked as an inmate, and also for vagrancy.

'When Study Interferes--' Wheeler Almost Says It

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, May 4.—A lack utterly different from that usually assumed by academic leaders has been taken by President H. Wheeler in his view of student affairs. Contributing an article to the annual Blue and Gold, just issued, he expresses his fear that an increase in the amount of studying done by students will militate toward a reduction in their interests in other affairs.

President Wheeler declares he is glad to see the increasing scholarship in the university, but feels that other activities ought not to be overlooked. He also says the fraternities and sororities must achieve higher scholarship than other students or "sooner or later will be given up." He thinks college singing ought to take precedence over college yelling. The new system of appointing instead of electing the graduate manager, President Wheeler believes is right.

Y. W. C. A. CORNERSTONE IS LAID THROUG ATTENDS CEREMONIES

Mrs. Walter H. Henry (Upper Left) Spreading Mortar for Y. W. C. A. Cornerstone; Miss Lucy Van Der Mark, Singing "The Holy City," and Jules Abrahamson, who Presided.

Principal Stone of New Structure Put in Position

Officers and Members of Oakland Branch See Ambition Realized

Amid impressive ceremonies, in the presence of women who for years have been prominent in the association work, and who have struggled long for the realization of the ambition, the cornerstone for the new Young Women's Christian Association building of Oakland was laid yesterday before a large crowd of members and visitors who gathered before the new structure at Fifteenth and Webster streets. Mrs. J. B. Richardson, honorary president, placed the stone in position; Miss Grace Fisher the copper crypt into the stone and Mrs. Walter H. Henry spread the mortar. Officers of the association squared the stone with plumb-line and level.

Jules Abrahamson presided at the ceremonies. An improvised stage, decked with bunting, had been erected near the corner, where the stone was placed, and before this sat the orchestra. On the stage with the president of the day were the following honorary vice-presidents: Wallace M. Alexander, president of the Oakland Y. M. C. A.; Arthur Adlett, Harmon Bell, George H. Collins, George B. M. Gray, H. J. McCoy and Judge W. H. Wate.

Following the singing of "America" Chairman Abrahamson introduced Rev. William Keeney Turner, who delivered the invocation, and Miss Lucy Van der Mark rendered the "Holy City" and the "Hallelujah Chorus."

WOMAN'S PROGRESS SYMBOLIZED.

B. B. Wilcox of Ventura, former state secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, was the speaker of the afternoon. Wilcox, who for years was at the head of the state men's organization, and has watched carefully the women's work in the state, its achievements and of its significance.

"It is the famous women of history who have stamped the true value of womanhood on the recollection of mankind," he declared. "By their courage, loyalty and unselfishness they have been a shining example to the entire world. From 35 to 75 per cent of all vocations in life are filled by women and the demand is increasing. This new home is a symbol of the progress of women, and a monument to her industry and capability."

Proceeding the actual laying of the stone a feature of the program was the conferring of the title of "The Lady of the Building" on Miss Grace Fisher, secretary of the association, who for years has worked toward the accomplishment of the association's aims, and to whom perhaps more than anyone else is due the credit for the work completed yesterday in the laying of the stone. The Y. W. C. A. orchestra, under the direction of George Smith, played during the ceremony.

MANY PROMINENT PARTICIPANTS.

Many prominent members of the association, some from Oakland and some visitors, attended the ceremonies. Among them were the following: Mrs. Caledonia Adams, president of the association, who for years has worked toward the accomplishment of the association's aims, and to whom perhaps more than anyone else is due the credit for the work completed yesterday in the laying of the stone. The Y. W. C. A. orchestra, under the direction of George Smith, played during the ceremony.

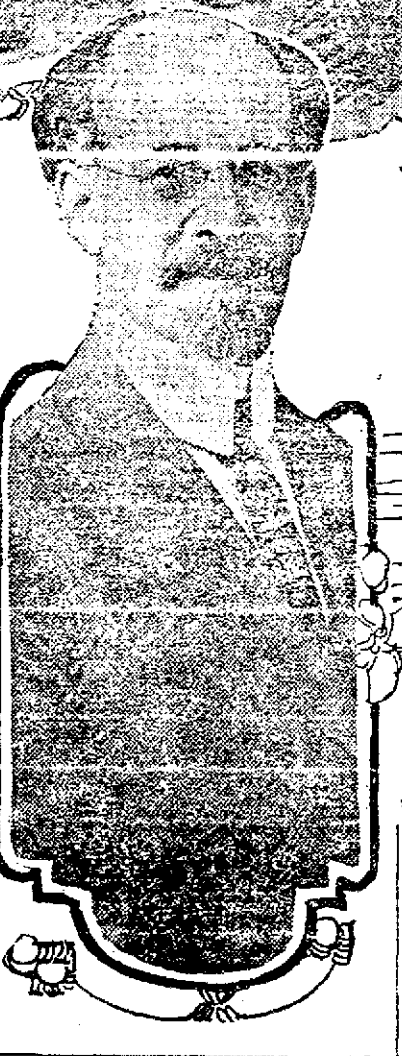

CONTENTS OF BOX.

Following is the contents of the box placed in the crypt yesterday: Bible, history of the association, pamphlet, autographs of board and secretaries, coins, stamps, constitution of the association, committee of 1914. (Miscellaneous copies); association monthly, annual report; campaign issue of the "Messenger" containing list of 200 members and other donors; building campaign booklet, map of Oakland, OAKLAND TRIBUNE, editor, Mrs. Evelyn Browne Keck, general secretary of San Francisco Association, and daughter of Mrs. P. D. Browne, for twenty years president of the Oakland Association.

The affair was directed by the following: man: Mrs. Charles Caldwell, Mrs. G. R. M. Gray, Mrs. Guy Reynolds, Mrs. Girard Richardson and Mrs. J. Spencer Rice.

ELABORATE PROGRAM.

The program, in full, was as follows: Orchestral prelude, Y. W. C. A. orchestra, George A. Smith, director. Hymn, "America," S. F. Smith. Invocation, Rev. William K. Turner, pastor First Baptist Church. Contralto solo, "The Holy City" (Stacy Adams).

CANAL OPEN MAY 10

Commerce, in the Shape of Barges, Will Move Through Ditch

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Commerce will move through the Panama canal for the first time about May 10, when a string of canal barges will be towed through the waterway carrying the sugar cargo of the steamer Columbian, of the Hawaiian-American line, now at Balboa.

Secretary Garrison announced today that he had approved Colonel Goethals' plan to permit the transfer of the cargo and perhaps to also send the steamer Columbian to the canal.

The closing by the Mexican trouble of the Tehuantepec railroad, over which the Hawaiian-American line has been transferring its cargoes from ocean to ocean, caused the company to appeal to the government for relief.

SHRINERS MAKE HIT

Arrive in Kansas City and Parade: Elaborate Banquet Tendered Combined Councils

KANSAS CITY, May 4.—Arriving here on four special trains over different routes from Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego, the California Shriners joined forces at four o'clock yesterday afternoon on their way to the Imperial Council at Atlanta. The people of this city turned out in thousands to witness the parade of the visitors and hear the famous ten million dollar Shriner band of 120 pieces. Among the throngs on the street, the visitors distributed thousands of oranges, raisins and walnuts as they passed on the way to Ararat Temple.

An elaborate banquet at the temple followed by an automobile trip of 25 miles around the city parks and boulevards and a band concert in the auditorium. An audience of 14,000 assembled here to hear a specially chosen program in which the song "I Love You, California" was prominent.

L. A. Larson, a baritone soloist of Islam Temple, sang the prologue from "The Shrine of the Sea," accompanied by Mrs. Larson. Franz Helle of Islam band gave a barrel horn solo. The combined bands were led by George W. Bennett.

The welcome extended by KANSAS CITY was responded to by Potentate George Filmer of Islam Temple. Potentate George S. Meredith of Aahmes Temple, delivered an interesting address after the banquet.

The proceeds of the concert, to which an admission of $1 was charged, will be used toward defraying the expenses of the journey to Atlanta, where Islam Temple of San Francisco, Aahmes of Oakland, Al Bahar of San Diego and Al Malakiah of Los Angeles will endeavor to secure the banquets.

In 1914, the Shriners set here at midnight for St. Louis, running an express train in four sections, with ten minutes' headway.

WOMAN JAILS SUITOR FOR FRAUD

Threat of White Slave Scandal Separates Governess From Money

LOS ANGELES, May 4.—Like an avenging nemesis, Miss Minnie Bennett is in Los Angeles today from Pittsburgh. And W. L. A. Robertson, once a tenor in the Baptist church choir, is quaking in jail, accused of extortion by threat.

This is Miss Bennett's story, told today to the district attorney: She told of how Robertson, shortly after she had met him, became, as she believed, madly infatuated with her. But Robertson's love, according to Miss Bennett, soon showed a mercenary tendency.

According to Miss Bennett, he declared to her that they had been watched; that he was in danger of arrest for white slavery on the charge of bringing her from Pennsylvania, which was false, she said today; and that to save herself the disgrace of being involved in such a case she gave him money.

The total amount, Miss Bennett said, she paid Robertson, was $620.

BENT ON PUNISHMENT.

Miss Bennett today avowed her determination to remain in Los Angeles until Robertson is punished.

Miss Bennett held a conference with Deputy District Attorney Graham and then declared herself ready to take the witness stand against the singer and tell her story. Robertson will be given a preliminary examination May 6.

The specific charge against Robertson is "extortion by threat and device." This is the charge placed against "bunco" men and was made against Robertson because the district attorney declared the manner in which Robertson is charged with defrauding the young woman of her savings is a "moral bunco game."

After having conferred with Deputy District Attorney Graham for more than an hour Miss Bennett was escorted to a hotel, where she will remain until Robertson is given a hearing.

TRAILED, HE SAYS.

"The young woman has told me all the facts and Robertson has admitted a great portion of them," Graham admitted today. She said: "Shortly after I met Mr. Robertson last December he pretended to be madly infatuated. About the third time he saw me he said detectives employed by the district attorney had been watching us and were going to arrest me and were also going to arrest him for a violation of the Mann act."

Robertson said he was charged with having brought me to Los Angeles. The charges were absolutely false and he said that despite the fact that they weren't true, still it would look bad. I understood that was due to Mr. and Mrs. Louis d'Isa, whose children I was taking care of and who occupied prominent positions socially in Pittsburgh, compelled me to do anything I could to prevent trouble so I wrote checks on my bank account. Robertson refused to accept the checks and he made me go to the bank and get the money. He got in all $620.

A report received today by the district attorney from a postal inspector in Pittsburgh stated that Miss Bennett has an enviable reputation as a governess.

EVASION OF ORDER IS CAUSE

Chicago Magistrate Punishes Eight Members for Contempt

Case Is Aftermath of Dismissal of Ella Flagg Young

CHICAGO, May 4.—Eight members of the Chicago Board of Education, including its President, were sentenced today to 30 days in the county jail, for contempt of court for refusing to obey the order of Circuit Judge Foell, reinstating four members of the board. The situation hinges on the dispute over the retention of Mrs. Ella Flagg Young as superintendent of Schools.

The four reinstated members voted against Mrs. Young and their resignations, signed before they took office, were accepted by Mayor Harrison. Judge Foell held that the resignations were void.

OLD CASE RECALLED.

Early last winter a vote was taken in the board of education which resulted in the election of John D. Shoop as superintendent of schools to succeed Mrs. Young.

A storm of protest over the shelving of Mrs. Young arose and Mayor Harrison took action by accepting the resignations which Henry Huttman, James B. Dubeika, Charles O. Setness and John C. Harding, board members who opposed Mrs. Young, had filed with him before they accepted places on the school board.

Four new members were appointed by the mayor and the action ousting Mrs. Young was rescinded. The four whose resignations had been accepted took the case before Judge Foell. The court ordered the board of education to recognize as members the four ousted by Mayor Harrison.

ADJOURN TO JULY 1.

Various expedients to prevent the four from sitting with the board were tried by the board members, including an adjournment until July 1, when the terms of the four reinstated members would automatically expire.

The eight against whom sentence for contempt of court was entered are Peter Reinberg, president of the board; Julius Smietanka, Jacob M. Loeb, Dean Walter T. Sumner, Charles S. Peterson, Ralph C. Ots, Harry Lipsky and Michael J. Collins.

Lad Kidnaped and Horribly Abused

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Kidnaped as he was on his way to a store, by a stranger who enticed him with the offer of candy and ice cream, Timothy Paul Ryan, a 6-year-old lad, was piled with liquor and horribly abused last night. The youngster was found on the edge of Golden Gate Park by Patrolman M. J. McDonald at 2 o'clock this morning and hurried to the Central Emergency Hospital in a precarious condition.

When the lad's mind cleared later in the day, he was able to give a fairly connected account of his experience. The man he can describe but vaguely.

NEVILLE IS BEATEN IN CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH

Fails to Make Easy Put, While Opponent Makes 20
Footer

Jack Neville was beaten yesterday in a tournament for the golf championship of Northern California, in one of the most sensational matches ever seen hereabouts.

last hole, with the ex-champion missing a seven-footer, Davis became champion. The match was close throughout, each player having slight reverses at different times.

Golf etiquette was out of the question from the gallery, as the followers applauded out of place, and though Neville claimed that neither of the participants were bothered by this untimely applause, it was noticeable that many putts were missed at the moment. Neville had previously been in a brilliant twenty-footer, yet he failed to hole out that tricky shot as when Davis was the alternative.

The match was a wonderful one in many respects and Davis, strangely to all the credit for his victory. Strangely enough, he was very erratic on his tee shots, which are supposed to be the best part of his game, yet he both out-putted and out-approached the California champion. Neville's drives were without doubt the best he has ever shown in any final match for a title, as only one tee shot of the entire thirty-six holes gathered trouble for him. As usual, he used a maulstick for approaching and to his chipshots with this club he may attribute his defeat in the main.

Davis approached with a maulstick, and he recovered from all kinds of trouble that his driver led him to by expecting a clever pitch to the greens. On the green, Neville lacked the boldness of his opponent, and seemed satisfied with halves, while his opponent was always up and striving for a win.

BASEBALL IMPROVES ARMY MORALS

That baseball has been an important factor in improving the morale of the United States troops is evidenced in the reports of several army officers and especially in the reports from the Philippines. More men are actually participating in the game in any other branch of sport, and the soldiers are taking such a live interest in the game that the forms of recreation and amusement which have been detrimental to the men, are gradually decreasing.

The enthusiasm for athletic sports among the soldiers in the Philippines has become so prominent that General Bell has issued an order for the formation of an athletic council to regulate sports of all kinds and place them on a purely amateur basis.

The council will consist of one officer from each regiment. There will also be a board of representatives to assist the council, consisting of one non-commissioned officer from the Coast Artillery, the Philippine Scouts, and the Engineer, Signal, Hospital and Quartermaster corps.

Army officers are also encouraged over the fact that wherever the United States soldiers come in contact with the soldiers of other nations baseball is regarded as the one sport which in the future will eventually become an international affair.

He Will Try His Wing Against the Oaks This Week

Jack Powell, pictured above, in point of years of service, is the veteran of them all. He has been a pitcher for sixteen years, first in the majors and then in the American Association. Venice took him from Louisville and expects that he will prove a good second string to "Doc" White. Powell is a corpulent, good-natured work horse whose delivery is as easy and natural as that of "Lefty" Leifield and his fellow-worker, "Doc" White. It is the smoothness of his swing that has enabled Powell to remain so long in harness and still be effective. Powell pitched the first Sunday morning game on the local lot this season, holding the Seals to a twelve-inning tie.

SELLING PLATERS TO GET ATTENTION

NEW YORK, May 4.—It does not need necessarily follow because there will be six days a week of thoroughbred sport at the local tracks this year that the majority of the bigger racing establishments to this vicinity. Although an owner's stable may be long on quantity, it is often the case that his horses are short on quality. As such stables are short on quality, they are short on the destinies of the turf in their keeping hereabout should frame programs, looking to the equitable division of the money which will be hung up in stakes and purses.

If the owner of the bona fide selling plater is not liberally provided for, it is a pity that the material available to furnish sport of the right kind to the public will be missing. The regular patrons of a race course nowadays have come to expect to see how far some crack can beat his competitors, but they do enjoy seeing a well-matched field of horses aligned, each striving to achieve victory.

From a general viewpoint it seems to be a foolish idea to set aside the major portion of what money there is to be distributed to the winners of stakes and handicaps, knowing that "class" with but few exceptions is absent on the American turf nowadays. It is that the owners' fund amounts this season to $125,000, so there will be many an owner of fair racing stock who will be disappointed to see which way the wind blows before deciding to campaign his horses at the local tracks.

Selling races where the top prize is $2,000 and then ranging down to $1,000 are a joke, for a horse is seldom entered at the top prize. Racing of this species is a joke, for a horse is seldom entered at the top prize. Racing of this species is a joke, for a horse is seldom entered at the top prize.

Diamond Flashes

By L. B. GROSS.

Baseball is certainly a hard game to figure. To think of our pennant hopes being snowed under in five out of seven games with Wolverton's pack of wolves, after the way they showed up the Seals last week in both fielding and hitting, is a most marvelous catch in the left field.

An Oakland fan would not be safe in the city of Sacramento, about this time, after what we told Wolverton, around the first of last week, about his team being worse than the one which represents the town of Milpitas.

We at least have one consolation, Kid Mohler failed to get a single in the a. m. contest. Five twirlers decorated the mound; on different occasions in the a. m. affair, Gregory, Kremer and Stroud, seeing duty for the Wolves, while Frust and Geyer worked for the Oaks.

Jack Ness started the morning game off in fine fashion. Shinn the first up sent a terrific line drive down first base way, and Jack stopped it with as much ease as if it were a bun.

The Oakland fans were given a scare in the fifth frame of the a. m. game, when the score standing 3-0 in favor of the Devilites, the Wolves came within an ace of being the score. Four hits and a couple of errors, enabled the Wolf pack to bring the score to a tie, "B. B. Shot" Charley Pruitt was driven from the mound in this frame, being replaced by Jake Geyer of St. Louis Cardinal team.

Gus Hetting put the game on ice in the sixth, when with Geyer and Quinn resting on the bags, he connected with one that hit deep rightfield, and both men crossed the plate. Quinn made the most marvelous catch in left field, in the eighth inning of the morning contest. Hannah walloped the ball out to left, for what apparently was a two-bagger, but Quinn after making a long run to the fence, made a leaping one hand catch of the drive. Hannah, after squinting on second, could hardly believe his eyes.

There is no doubt but that Mohler is playing a class game, but in one inning in the morning game, he would get too fresh on the bags and was thrown out by several feet. Hannah had fooled off to Alexander, and Mohler tried to draw the throw to second, but Alexander promptly whipped the pill to Ness and Mohler was out.

Bert Coy gathered a triple in the a. m. game but failed to score, as Tennant was an easy out, and Bert was out at the plate, trying to score on Young's tap to Hetting.

"Daddy" Rohrer was seen in the line-up yesterday, for the first time this season, wearing the uniform of the Wolves, coming through with two safeties, and scored two of the Wolves runs. The poor old crippled Angels were walloped on a fare-the-well in the South last week. Four out of five games were taken by the Tigers, who clash with the Oaks up here this week. Oh my!

RITCHIE DENIES MAKING UNREASONABLE DEMANDS

Gallant and Watson Getting Ready for 20-Round Go
Next Friday

(By THE TIMEKEEPER.)
A wire dispatched from Chicago saying that Willie Ritchie had made unreasonable demands for a ten-round bout with Charley White, under the auspices of by the champion. Willie Ritchie says he answered Andrews' proposition for a match with White with a demand for $10,000 with the privilege of half the gate. "I have been used to getting at least that much."

why the price should have come down since my last engagement in the past. "I have had two offers to fight Freddie Welch, one from Gibson in New York and one from England. Gibson says his date a crowd that would let him out financially whole in the proposition. I have been asked to go to England, but if they accept my terms and post the proper figures I will be only too pleased to give Welch a throw at the lightweight title."

The champion is having the time of his life at present. Chinning with his old friends, playing golf and showing his brothers and sisters a good time is his regular program. Gilbert Gallant and Red Watson entertained good crowds at their training quarters yesterday. The boys are getting ready for a 20-round go and they worked hard on the 16-round special. The other bouts are: Sammy Good vs. Danny Matthews, Willie Fitzsimmons vs. Harry Wade, Tommy Daly vs. Freddie Wharton.

There will be four preliminaries. Ralph Gruman meets Dick Kendall in the six-round special. The other bouts are: Sammy Good vs. Danny Matthews, Willie Fitzsimmons vs. Harry Wade, Tommy Daly vs. Freddie Wharton.

AMERICAN BASEBALL PLANNED NOW FOR EUROPE

BERLIN, May 4.—Richard C. Klein, an American promoter, is making an attempt to lay the American National League baseball in Europe. He has arranged for the first game in Berlin, which is to be played May 11 in the stadium where the Olympic games of 1916 will take place.

LAYS OUT BIG CIRCUIT.
Mr. Klein says he has secured long time leases on the only grounds available for baseball in London, Paris, Brussels, Milan, Monte Carlo, Nice and Copenhagen and will eventually start a league composed of these cities and possibly St. Petersburg.

The teams that will play here next month will be composed of semi-professional and college players from the United States. Mr. Klein says he has enough money to keep plugging at the scheme for four or five years and believes by that time European players will be educated up to the great American game.

Klein says the Federal league is planning to send teams to the Riviera in winter for training.

Billy Fitz Says, Says he:

There are at least six managers in the Pacific who would like to get on a bunch of old has-beens like Kid Mohler.

We note that despite the fact the Oakes first baseman, will be able to reach up and turn the lights out on the city hall.

There is nothing more exciting than a bowling score unless it be the spectacle of a grape-juice jar. Some one observes that the Oaks seldom lose on Tuesday, but then they lose still lower games on Monday.

Now that Eddie Beeson has the high jump record, what's he going to do with it? The way the Oaks fell upon poor Howard Beeson, who was a champion, would make the milk of human kindness look like lemonade.

Well, Beeson men held the championship of Oakland anyway. Since Tom Quinlan-Hogan, the champion tumbler of Southern California, will be in town with a number of his friends, his death-defying, delicious, and demoralizing act, called "Terrible Tumble-Twinks, or The Tiger's Revenge, Check your hats and pass into the night."

PASTIMES WIN FROM KREUGER THINKS US VAMPIRES

The Pastime soccer football team defeated the Vampires in the benefit game by a score of 2 to 1. The Pastimes at all times demonstrated their superiority over the Vampires, and the latter at no time showed the class which won the league championship for them.

Under some out of Art's pipe are: "Vampires to win the point with the Oakland to be the 'dark horse,' as the Oakland fans say. The best playing staff in the city is in the Vampires. The Oakland and San Francisco to be the weak and Sacramento also poor owing to loss of Henry, whom Art characterized as "the best player in the Coast League last year."
